

UVA Health Art Program | Call for Submissions

Team Member Rotating Art Exhibit: May 5–June 30, 2022

Call for submissions: UVA Health Arts Committee is seeking entries for its rotating art exhibit in the lobby of University Hospital. This is a special call for submissions open to team members or volunteers only. The rotating exhibit features original artwork by team members that is conducive to a healing environment. Wall art in oil, acrylic, pastels, mixed media, and photography will be considered. Fiber and textile art are not permitted and will not be accepted.

The Art Committee will pre-screen initial submissions, and each selected employee will be notified and asked to bring in a limited number of original works for final jurying.

Interested team members are asked to send a brief biography and flash drive of digital images in jpeg format with three to five examples of artwork. Each example must be identified by title, size, and medium.

Artwork must meet the following criteria:

- Subject matter must be positive, uplifting, or calming and suitable for viewing by all ages.
- Violent, graphic, or otherwise unsettling images are not appropriate in a healing environment.
- Nudity is not permitted.
- Religious symbols are not permitted.

This call for submissions will begin March 11, 2022, and will run through the close of business on March 31, 2022.

Please do not email images. Send a flash drive along with a short bio via mail to the following address:
